Dickten Masch Plastics Named One of Waukesha County's Top 10 Businesses

Waukesha County Business Alliance awards DMP for community-benefitting business practices

NASHOTAH, Wis. (May 5, 2011) – Dickten Masch Plastics (DMP), a custom thermoplastics and thermoset molder with metal stamping and assembly capabilities, was recently named one of the “Top 10 Businesses of the Year” in Waukesha County by the Waukesha County Business Alliance and BizTimes Media LLC.

The annual awards program recognizes companies headquartered in southeastern Wisconsin that demonstrate consistent financial growth and a commitment to good business practices through employee relations, customer-focused commitment and community service.

“Waukesha County has been a strong supporter of businesses like ours, and we pride ourselves on doing everything we can to give back – through creating jobs, partnering with area educators, drawing additional business to the region and staying actively involved in community business programs like the Alliance and Milwaukee 7,” said Steve Dyer, President and CEO. “We’re honored to have our efforts recognized with this award.”

DMP was selected as a Top 10 Business from over 50 nominees. DMP was also recognized as a 2010 Wisconsin Manufacturer of the Year earlier this year.

“DMP exemplifies all the traits of a truly outstanding manufacturing company – strong financial performance, operational excellence, a commitment to employee development and growth, a passionate focus on exceeding customer expectations and meaningful community engagement,” said Suzanne Kelley, President of the Waukesha County Business Alliance.

The Top 10 Businesses of the Year will be honored at the annual awards luncheon on Thursday, June 9, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30p.m. at the Country Springs Hotel in Pewaukee. The event will include a panel discussion featuring the winners. The program will conclude with the announcement of the #1 Business of the Year.
